In the younger days of the Republic there ived in the county of - two men, who were admitted on all hands to be the very best men in the county; which, in the Georgia vohard-fought battle, had acquired the mastery of his own battalion; but they lived on opposite sides of the Court-house, and in different battalions: consequently, they were but seldom thrown together. Thanks to the Christian religion, to schools colleges, and benevolent associations, such scenes of barbarism and cruelty as that which have been just describing are now of rare occurrence, though they may still be occasionally met with in some of the new coundies. Wherever they prevail, they are a disgrace to that community. The peace-officers who countenance them deserve a place in the

Speaking of the first impressions at church brings to mind a ludicrous circumstance that happened some fifty or sixty years ago at church. The rector, though a man of profound learning and a great theologian, was of among the vulgar whether he was at times compos mentis. Having remarked for several successive Sundays, a gentleman, who was no parishioner, invariably using a seat in a pew next to that in which a young widow lady sat, he constantly eyed them, and detected the young gentleman slyly drawing the young lady's glove from off the back of a pew where she was accustomed to place it, (her hand and arm being delicately fair) -and putting in it a small neatly folded note. By-and-by the lady's prayer-book fell-of course accidentally -from the edge of her pew into the gentleman's; he picked it up, found a leaf turned down, and he hastily scanned a passage, which evidently caused a smile of complacency.

Our minister saw all their proceedings, and continued to watch them for two successive the collections were made, while the beadle yet waited to attend him to the chancel, our eccentric pastor, in a strong distinct voice, said: "I publish the banns of marriage between M. and N., [deliberately pronouncing the names of parties,] if any of you know just were set on them, the lady with suffused blushes, and the gentleman crimsoned with anger, she fanning herself with vehemence. and he opening and shutting the pew door with rage and violence, the minister meanwhile proceeding through his duties with the same decorum as if innocent of the agitation he had excited.

The sermon preached and the services ended, away to the vestry rushed the parties at the heels of the pastor. "Who authorized you, sir, to make such a publication of the banns?" demanded they, both in one breath. "Authorized me!" said he, with a stare, which heightened the confusion. "Yes, sir, authorized you." "Oh!" said the minister. with a sly glance alternately at each, "if you

Our letters from Vera Cruz differ somewhat from Mr. Kendall's in regard to the probable movements of Gen'l Scott. They represent the chances of peace in a more favorable light than Mr. K., and think the resistance to our atest letters, which will be found below.

In Mexico every thing was at sixes and sevens. Congress has referred Mr. Buchanan's letter back to the Executive, and thrown upon him all the responsibilities of the war. Puebla, July 28, 1847.

Experience has shown that the safety of the persons and property of this army calls for a more regular system of police and activity on the part of patrols, guards, and sentinels. In addition to the means heretofore prescribed, (see general orders, No. 206,) the commander of the cavalry brigade will detail daily, for night duty, beginning at 12 o'clock and ry two hours, to make the entire circuit of the environs of the city.

The cavalry patrols, like those of foot in the interior, will receive the standing instruction to seize and to turn over to the nearest guard all suspicious and disorderly persons for xamination or trial

The field officer of the day will see that the patrol duty, both exterior and interior, be duy performed, and distribute that duty between the foot patrols, so that every part of the city may be regularly patrolled several times in every night. By command of Major General Scott. H. L. SCOTT, A. A. Adj't Gen'l.

We have letters from the American officers risoners in Mexico, which we cannot find room for this morning. The latest date is the 15th July. The health of the party is good, but they see no prospect of release. They long for the arrival of the army. Gen'l Scott has made another effort in their behalf, but we do not yet know the result.

They are not of a late date, but it is rather singular that they should have reached their destination against the wishes of the Mexicans, when once in their possession. We have not yet had time even to read them. Mr. K. will continue to espatch messengers to the coast.

Mr. Trist must have been indisposed. A rivate letter written on the 29th ult., says: Mr. Trist's health has improved."

From all this we come to the conclusion entertain, and cannot rightfully entertain the entering into negotiations for peace, and offering to name a minister for this purpose. The committee participate in these feelings and would only observe that this constitutional power conferred upon the executive cannot for well founded alarm, nor in fine is it possible that Congress should itself discharge this duty. The management of diplomatic negotiations demands such reserve, so much discussion, and activity so well timed, a system of designs so well prosecuted, that it would be impossible to carry them on with certainty. if their management were entrusted to a numerous body. The policy of all nations confirms this truth, and there is no doubt that Congress itself renounced the power of negotiation when in amending our original constitutional pact, it determined that there should be no alteration in the provisions we have cited, and left them to stand as they were. On the other hand, in perfect consistency with these provisions, the executive can conclude nothing definitively, it possesses no authority to consummate any arrangement which shall be binding upon the Republic; and Congress very well knows that the executive, even in the exercise of its constitution al exclusive faculties, under a representative system finds itself constrained to pursue such a course as may be designated by public opinion and the legislative body. In the position truly strong and respectable which our constitution gives to Congress, it possesses abundant peaceful and legal resources, without exceeding its duties, to insure the interests of the nation in whatever manner they may be

For these reasons, therefore, the majority of he committee cannot propose any other course than to return to the Government the despatch; and if this report appears subscribed by only two members of the committee, it should be borne in mind that our associate Sr. Ceballos who worthily presides over the committee, but who from his well known illness is unable to co operate with us, and he even!offered to subscribe the report which he should prepare expressive of our views, which we conclude with the following proposition.

THE MEXICAN CONGRESS AND PEACE.

We find room to lay before our readers this morning the report of the committee or Foreign Relations of the Mexican Congress, to which had been referred Mr. Buchanan's late letter to that Government. The document is full of importance as expressive of the feelings and views of the Mexican Congress and nation. To prove that those institutions which they so bitterly denounce, are the work of their own nation, forced upon the South in defiance of its remonstrances the Republican makes the following quotation from an article in a late number of the London Christian Remembrancer, on African sla-

The Remembrancer dates the slave trade al most as far back as the first settlement of the West Indies, when Bartholomew Las Casas. a Dominican, who had spent a greater part of his life as a missionary among the Indians in St. Domingo, struck with pity at the sufferings inflicted by the whites on the Indians, formed the idea of transporting from the Por-tuguese settlements large numbers of Africans, whose greater powers of endurance rendered them capable of toil which the feeble Indians could not sustain. It is not supposed that Las Casas contemplated the piratical seizure of the Africans, "but imagined that their transportation (a few had been carried over by the Portuguese as early as 1503) was with their own consent." When the proposition was made to Cardinal Ximenes, the Regent of Spain at the time, he absolutely rejected it. The Remembrancer proceeds:

"But the experiment, once begun to be made, was found to succeed so well for the purposes of the settlers, that a regular piratical trade was soon established. And now began the share of England in the business. Before we had a colony of our own, and long withfirst importation of slaves by English ships was in the reign of Elizabeth, in 1562, by a Capt. The panther stopped, looked up, saw Hudson, and made at him, without asking him if he was ready. Hudson turned to take the axe out of the tree to fight with; but before he could get it and turn round, the panther was on him, and he was compelled to drop his axe and take it 'fist and scull.' Its first effort was to take him by the throat, but throwing down his head it caught him by the forehead and bit him severely. He knocked it off two or three times, and it would rise and rear again to get him by the throat; but he prevented from doing so, by striking it underhanded, and running his arm in its mouth. of 1846 would not yield so much revenue as that of 1842 by FIVE MILLIONS of dollars? Did he not take up, item by item, and show this by figures that could not lie? Did he not come to the conclusion, in his own words, that the tariff would prove " ENTIRELY INAD-EQUATE TO THE SUPPORT OF GOVERNMENT ?-The tariff of 1842 had yielded TWENTY-SIX millions net, and was increasing:" he said " I SHALL BE VERY GREATLY DISAPPOINTED IF THE PRESENT BILL WILL YIELD A NET REVENUE EXCEEDING TWENTY-ONE MILLIONS."

Such was the prophecy—what is the pros-pect of its fulfilment? The tariff that he alleged was destined to impair the public credit went into operation December 1, 1846. An official document from the treasury department, dated July 16, 1847, gives the result thus far. The gross receipts of seven months and ten days exceed those of the same period under the tariff of 1842 ONE MILLION AND FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS, exclusive of the duties on goods in warehouse, amounting to nearly HALF MILLION. Add this sum and we have an increase of a round million and a Half! But additional returns show that the revenue is still increasing and that largely!! It is hardly fair, however, to call Senator Evans to account yet. But the prospect is poor indeed for his figures. Those patriotic whigs who feared that public credit would be destroyed and the revenue inadequate, may stick a pin on two fixed facts, viz: that the U. S. stock is at a premium and that the revenue is on the increase.

Meantime it is gratifying to believe that every one of the predictions of the whig opposers of the tariff have been falsified. They predicted ruin to our manufactures and commerce and agriculture-they flourish as they never have thrived before. They predicted a decline to the national revenue—it has increased .-They predicted that the people would rise en masse and cry out for repeal of this tariffthey prefer to pocket in quiet joy the profits us only because we have been fighting one of wholesome trade, stimulated and rendered still hope to persuade the people to reinstate them in political power. According to a calculation some few years since, there were in the United States 34,000,000 of sheep. At a moderate and rational computation, the value of these may tafely be estimated at $70,000,000, and the amount of wool annually produced, at $40,-000,000. Of this vast flock, the State of New York owned at the time of making the above estimate nearly one-fifth. For the five years immediately preceding that time, the increase of sheep in the United States averaged 1,000,-000 per year; since that it has probably been much greater.

THE FRESHET .- Jenk's Bridge on the Lou sville Road has been carried away, and for several days it has been impossible to cross the Ogeechee. The stage driver in attempting to cross with the mail on horseback on Friday last was near being drowned. We are assured that on Saturday the Ogeechee formed a sheet of water four miles . wide. or rom the 13 mile stone on the Ogeechee road to the 17 mile stone. Our informant further says that almost all, if not quite all, the Rice plantations on the Ogeechee road are under water, and the rice crop is in that state at present, that nearly a total loss of the crops may with certainty be expected. On Saturday the Ogecchee was still rising 20 miles from town. lence it could not have reached its highest point below until last evening.

Our tables gave the unprecedented downfall of rain of 201 inches during the month of July, and we are pursuaded that for the first week in August, they will at least show a proportional quantity if not more. Now, however, the weather appears more settled, but all these heavy rains have been attended with intervals of beautiful clear weather. The Cot ton crops in the State, particularly those in the low country, must necessarily suffer. Savannah Republican, August 9.

IMPORTANT FACT.-The Natchitoches Chroncle mentions a discovery in relation to the great destroyer of the cotton plant, which it may be well for every man to know and remember. Mr. Gilmore, of that parish, plantpiece of ground in indigo. Thinking that it would yield more in indigo than would be necessary to furnish his family, he ploughed a part of it up, and put it in cotton. Thus ploughed before it had germinated, he scattered the seed over his cotton land, and many stocks of it grew with the cotton. When the worms began to devour the cotton, he found to his surprise that the stocks near the indigo were untouched by them. They left, or rather kept away from the rows near the indigo patch. The odor from the indigo plant s known to be pungent and disagreeable; this TO NEW YORK may have repelled the worms, if they have

NEW COTTON.-We stated yesterday the arrival of two bales of new Cotton from the plantation of Gen. A. G. Carter. We learn that Mr. Turnbull has already ginned & baled forty bales of new Cotton at his new and magnificent plantation near St. Francisville. From all we can learn, the prospects for a fine Cotton crop were never more cheering. We sincerely rejoice at this. The Cotton Planters have had a hard time of it for some years back. It was time that they were coming in for their share of the general prosperity which has blessed our country of late. N. O. Delta, 11th Aug.

COMPLEXION .- Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are the best costmetic in the world; because they cleanse and purify the body of those morbid humors which, if lodged in the cuticle, are the cause not only of yellow or swarthy complexion and roughness of the skin, but of all kinds of eruptive diseases. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills also aid and improve digestion, as well as cleanse and purify the blood, and, therefore, give health and vigor to the whole frame, which, in turn, will be sure to give a clear and healthy complexion.

STILL ANOTHER TRIUMPH OVER DISEASES IN MAINE.

WARREN, Lincoln Co., July 15, 1845. Dear Sir :- I take pleasure in complying with your request to bear testimony in favor of your valuable medicine, having had a daughter 15 years old, very dangerously sick the last year, restored with it. My daughter took a violent cold in Sept. 1843, which settled on her lungs. She was troubled with a bad cough all winter. I tried various kinds of medicines, but none of them had the desired effect. The cough continued until March when we became alarmed at her condition, and applied to a physician, who attended her some time, but did here no good. We then consulted another, but all to no purpose. Having exhausted the whole catalogue of medicines now in the land -two distinguished physicians having done their best to restore her -we then obtained a bettle of which relieved her immediately. After taking four bottles she was completely restored, and now en joys good health. JOHN LEEDS. None genuine, unless signed I. Butts on the NAVAL STORES-A better demand has existed within the past few days for Turpentine than there was this day week. Rahway, January 25, 1847.

A year since I was taken with the influenza and my whole system left in a debilitated state. I was induced to try Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and after taking two or three bottles I was very much relieved, and attributed it entirely to the said Barsaparilla. I have continued taking it, and find that I improve every day. I believe it saved my life, and would not be without it under any consideration.

She has tried many different remedies to obtain some relief, but all to no purpose. She was finally induced, by seeing your advertisement, to give your Sarsaparilla a trial. > ALMOST A MIRACLE. Read the following, and doubt if you can, that con-sumption cannot be cured. This is only one of the sev-eral hundred cases that Townsend's Sarsaparilla has ured: Brooklyn, Sept. 14, 1840.
> Dr. Townsend—Dear Sir: Lwas taken, a little over year ago, with a severe cough and a pain in my side. ncreased on me very fast, indeed. I was pronounc by physicians to have the quick consumption. I raise by physicians to have the quick consumption. I raised large quantities of bad matter, had night sweats, and sinking very fast: my doctor said he could do nothing for me. I went into the hospital in hope of being benefitted, but was pronounced there as incurable I was now greatly distressed at the lungs and could hardly breathe; I soon became emaciated, and expected to-die; was confined to my bed, and was obliged to have watchers; indeed I cannot give you any description that would do institute to my case. I read of some most extradianty cures performed by your me dicine, and to tell you the truth, I suspected there was some humbug in them. But I was induced to try it; did so, and am very thankful I did. I cannot say that am entirely well, but am so far recovered as to be about weeks. My cough and pain in the side, and night sweat have left me, and raise but very little, and am fast gaining my usual strength. I felt it a duty to give you a statement of my case, to publish if you please. PETER BROWN, 47 Little-street, Brooklyn.

GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE. Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla is sovereign and speed

nence of urine, or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of the inherent causes, or produced by irregularity, illness or accident. Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects upon the human frame. Persons all weakness and lassitude before taking it, at once become robus nd full of energy under its influence. It immediately ounteracts the nervelessness of the female frame which is the great cause of barrenness.

It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature, to exhibit certificates of cures performed, but we can assure the afflicted that hundreds of cases have been reported to us. Several cases where families have been without children, after using a few bottles of this invaluable medicine, have been blessed with healthy offsprings.

Dr. Townsend: My wife being greatly distressed by weakness and general debility, and suffering continually by pain and a sensation of bearing down, falling of the womb, and with other difficulties, and having known cases where your medicine has effected great cures, and also hearing it recommended for such cases as I have described, I obtained a bottle of Extract of Sarsaparilla, and followed the directions you gave me. In a short time it removed her complaints and restored her to health. Being grateful for the benefits she received, I take pleasure in thus acknowledging it, & recommending it to the public. M. D. MOORE, cor. of Grand Albany, Aug. 17, 1844.]

Dr. Townsend.—To all whom this may concern: This Dr. Townsend.—To all whom this may concern: This is to certify, that my wife used one bottle of your Sarsaparilla previous to her confinement, under the most asaparina previous to her confinement, under the most a larming and delicate circumstances, being troubled with the dropsy, swelling of the feet, nervous affections, and very much debilitred. With my persuasion, and the recommendation of those who had used it, she was induced to try it, with little or no faith; and suffice it to say, the medicine had the happy and desired effect, not only in the hours of confinement, but after the expiration of one week of its use, the dropsy and nervous affection gave way to an astoniching degree and her best between gave way to an astonishing degree, and her health is now better than it had been for a long time previous If this will be of any service to you, or any who doubte the success of the medicine, you are entirely welcom to it. I subscribe myself your most obedient and oblige servant,
